

History as Dialogue: On Online Narrativity

Chiel van den Akker

Some references:

- a virtual reconstruction of Rome: for example: <http://romereborn.frischerconsulting.com/> and http://www.capitolium.org/eng/virtuale/virtuale\_video.htm
- the online archive of social life in early modern London: <http://www.londonlives.org/>
- the mapping of the Republic of Letters: <http://republicofletters.stanford.edu/>
- the real time simulation of the Apollo 11 flight: <http://wechoosethemoon.org/>
- Europe's portal to its cultural heritage, Europeana: <http://www.europeana.eu/>
- The Differences Slavery Made: A Close Analysis of Two American Communities' by William Thomas and Edward Ayers: <http://www2.vcdh.virginia.edu/AHR/>